(B) In the event that the test on the meter reveals that the meter registers over, by more than 4%, (such percentage to be defined as the average of the check-and-open flow tests as provided by the independent testing agency), then a meter accurate to those specifications shall be substituted and the test deposit shall be fully refunded. Credit will be granted, based on the percentage over 100% accuracy, for a billing period equaling not more than two (2) months prior to the date of removal of the meter for testing.
